RACE-WALKING SECTION

GOOD SHOW BY ILFORD AC

Ilford AC contested the 2022 Enfield Race Walking League's penultimate, held on Saturday morning at Enfield's Queen Elizabeth II Stadium track. In football seasons, athletics is a morning activity as afternoons are for Isthmian League Enfield Town FC's fixtures.

The race was an annual "One Hour" event, which sees competitors lap the track for exactly 60 minutes. In the men's race Ilford's inform John Arthur led home his Club's entrants, despite having a bad night's sleep in preparation. He shot off to a convincing opening 35 minutes before hitting a bad patch, which took much willpower to get over. When getting properly going again, he had the satisfaction of finishing strongly to account for 9,319 metres for 4th position. In 5th came another Ilford man enjoying fine form as Simon Morgan recorded 9,017 metres. Stalwart Dave Kates was 7th in 8,705 metres. The race had Essex County Championship status, and as the first Essex man home, John Arthur received the coveted Phil Embleton Memorial Cup, which was presented by Tokyo Olympic 20 Kilometers' walker Callum Wilkinson of the host Club, Enfield & Haringey AC.

The women's race saw victory by Melanie Peddle of near neighbors Loughton AC with 10,148 metres to her credit. Lesley Morris walked well for 4th spot with 8,535 metres with Shaheda Arthur 9th with 5,782 metres on the board. Rachel Lawless gave it her best shot, but was unwell and had to retire from the action.

With one race to go, over 7 miles at Enfield on November 12th, Ilford have already done enough to have won the Enfield League title.
