ONCE again the holder of the All-England Schools' Junior 100 yards championship has been supplied by Ilford Athletic Club, writes TONY MILLS.

This year the honour went to Valerie Cutting, who during the last two seasons has gone from success to success. At Ashington, Northumberland, on Saturday, the Ilford girl made her way through heat, semi-final and final to win the event in which many women international athletes have been successful on their way to fame. Conditions were bad, but Valerie's time of 11.7 seconds was .1 faster than that of the senior and .2 inside the winning time of the intermediate 160.

There can be few athletes more Wheeler also had an afternoon conscientious than 15-year-old of good all-round performances.

Some time ago she moved to southend, but that did not prevent her training with Illord A.C. For many months now she RESULTS
